LOCAL MATTERS.

The Weather Probabilities, Oct. 28, 1881.—For the Middle Atlantic States increasing clouds and rain, southeasterly winds stationary or lower barometric and higher temperature.

REGISTRATION TO MORROW.—The books for the registration of voters will be open in the various wards of the city from sunrise until sunset to-morrow, when persons who have never before registered can have the opportunity so to do. All persons entitled to bribery in any election, embezzlement of public funds, treason, felony, or petit larceny, as well as all persons who have fought a duel or aided in any manner in fighting a duel (unless the difficulties incurred thereby shall have been removed by a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly), are debarred from voting. Any male citizen of the United States twenty-one years of age who shall have been a resident of this State for twelve months, of this city for three months, and of the ward in which he is registered for thirty days prior to the day of November next, and has paid his entire TAX FOR THE YEAR 1880, is entitled to vote at the coming election. Persons otherwise qualified who shall arrive at the age of twenty-one years at any time between the assessment of 1880 and the day of election, November 8, 1881, are entitled to register and to VOTE WITHOUT PAYMENT OF THE CAPITAL TAX. Persons who were not assessed in 1880 must go to the Commissioner's office and be assessed, as this is preliminary to the payment of the capital tax. The address issued by the Conservative Committee gives all necessary information on the subject.

MEETING IN FAIRFAX.—A Major rally for meeting was convened to take place at Lorton Valley, Fairfax county, last night, at which R. H. Fair, the adjutant candidate for the legislature, would speak. When Fair arrived on the ground, he was met by the friends of Mr. W. H. Moore, who occupied a carriage of time. Fair would only consent to a division on condition that Moore should have an hour's speech to be followed by him. Fair in a speech occupying the same time, each speaker to have half an hour in which to reply. The conditions, although thought to be unfair, were accepted, and Mr. Moore who was introduced, made a most telling speech, as was attended by the frequent outburst of applause. Fair, seated in his usual chair, making no sort of reckless statements, elicited among other things that the Hooker bill was ungenerous to the readjuster party. He also said that he was forcible reelected. To a question by Mr. Moore, whether he would vote for Thomaston or Arthur in 1882, Fair replied that the election of 1881 was too far off to talk about now. Mr. Moore in reply said it had fully established his friends by the manner in which he unmasked his antagonists and showed the absurdity of their set up to the readjuster party. After Fair's reply, which was brief, the crowd dispersed, deeming that Moore was more than a match for Fair.

CALLENDEEN'S GEORGIA MINSTREES.—A large and appreciative audience, mostly in the fates of the city being present, viewed Callender's Georgia Minstrels at Academy Hall last night. The performers, partly free from any taint of vulgarity, were for the best of the kind seen in the city for a long time. The Georgia Minstrels, an colored band, in excel their dark-skinned rivals in the delineation of negro character. All of their six odd men are splendid, any one of them being equal to the best men of other troupes. They have a wealth of plantation songs, and their imitations of negro camp meeting songs are all natural and admirable. They are full of romping fun, and the audience kept in a state of merriment from the commencement until the end of the entertainment. J. J. G. C. T.'s oration on "Our Country To-Day" was received with great enthusiasm. Three times the "Judge" brought before the throng, the rich and beautiful melody was well worth hearing, and all who wish to spend an enjoyable evening would do well to attend the midday entertainment of the negro show-people.

MARRIAGE.—The nuptials of Mr. Louis O. Moore, of this city, and Mrs. Helen L. Garrett, of Loudoun County, Va., were legalized at the residence of Rev. Dr. Wm. R. Monroe, the bride's uncle, in B. Hill, last night. The participants in the happy union were Mr. Samuel E. Moore, of this city, and Miss Helen E. M. Watson, of Loudoun, and Mr. R. L. Monroe and Mrs. Mary Hammon, of this city. After a reception the newly wedded pair left for a short trial tour. Upon returning they will make their home near Philmont, Loudoun county, Va.

RELIGIOUS.—The extra services at the M. E. Church, in this city, during the week have been characterized by considerately quiet to the large congregations present on each occasion. Last night Rev. W. W. Hicks, of Washington, preached an eloquent sermon on "The Completeness of Righteous Character." To night the speaking will be on Temperance by Miss Julia C. Dean, of New York. On Sunday Mrs. Mary A. Wondra, of Ohio, and Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, of Iowa, will speak, and on Monday night Miss Elizabeth W. Greenwood, of New York.

ACCIDENT TO GENERAL PAYNE.—While General Wm. H. Payne and Major Thomas Smith were on their way to the home of Mrs. Warrington yesterday, they spied horses attached to the wagons, in which they were seated, frightened at the noise and the firing of the canon. Hence running giddy, G. H. Payne, in attempting to get out of the vehicle, fell to the ground, cutting a deep gash in his eye. The wound, while painful, and will probably give the General some trouble, seems not dangerous.

The bodies of G. W. Harrison and the other two parties drowned with him have not yet been recovered.

"Don't Know Half the Value."—They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a bad attack last which I used for my two little girls, whose doctors and neighbors said could not cure it. I would have both of them one night if I had not given them Ben Eaters. They did not know half the value of Ben Eaters.
